

Power by Association™

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

Becoming A Member

Value Proposition

For electric companies seeking to attract investment, mitigate risk, grow their business, and satisfy customer expectations in a dynamic business environment; visibility, strategic engagement, and influence across a globally-interconnected industry are strategic imperatives. EEI membership supports these imperatives for electric companies and corporate initiatives by providing access to an international network of industry expertise, creating opportunities for accelerated learning and knowledge sharing, and elevating the visibility of member company efforts.

Criteria For Membership

International electric companies may join the EEI International Programs. A company may be an integrated electric company or involved in solely generation or transmission and distribution.

Membership Dues

Member company dues are calculated on an annual basis using operating and financial statistics in the most recent annual report.

Membership Application Process

The application process can be completed in three easy steps:

Step 1: Email international@eei.org outlining interest in applying for membership.

Step 2: EEI International Programs will send an online application form.

Step 3: Complete the application form with the required information for company operations including statistics from the previous year including average number of customers, total revenue, generation-owned capacity (if applicable), and transmission assets (if applicable). A signature from the company CEO, President, or General Manager is also required.

EEI International Programs will process your application and send a detailed proposal for membership. Potential new members are also reviewed and approved by the EEI Board of Directors.

Contact

EEI International Programs Team
International@eei.org

Edison Electric Institute
701 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20004-2696
202-508-5000 | www.eei.org

Visit eei.org/international to learn more.